

"TAKE A GOOD LOOK. I AM MYSELF," SAID SACCO AND WOMAN IDENTIFIED HIM

As the Man She Had Seen Working on An Automobile Near Scene of Double Murder and Robbery at South Braintree, Mass., and Shortly Before the Crimes

ACCUSED MAN STOOD IN CAGE AS HE SPOKE

Mrs. Rolla R. Andrews, a Nurse, Was Testifying at the Time in Court at Dedham When Sacco Made the Unusual Move of Inviting Attention to Himself

Dedham, Mass., June 11.—Nicola Sacco from the prisoner's cage in the court room, where with Bartolomeo Vanzetti, he is on trial for murder, today invited attention to himself in connection with the question as to the identity of a man who was seen working on an automobile near the scene of and shortly before the murder of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree in April, 1920. Mrs. Rolla R. Andrews, a nurse, was testifying at the time. She pointed out Sacco as a man whom she had spoken to as he was tinkering with an automobile engine about four hours before the murder and robbery occurred.

As Mrs. Andrews was pointing toward the prisoner's cage, Sacco rose and in the first words he had spoken before the court since he pleaded, said: "Take a good look. I am myself." He was assisted to his seat again, and Mrs. Andrews continued her testimony. Mrs. Andrews said she had gone from her home in Quincy to South Braintree to look for work. She arrived in the town a little after 11 o'clock and went down Pearl street. There she saw a dark-complexioned, medium height man working on the engine of an automobile while a thin, sickly looking man sat at the wheel. A few minutes later when she approached the car again the dark man was under it, apparently fixing something.

Mrs. Andrews said she spoke to him and asked how to get to the office of the Rice and Hutchins shoe company. The man got out from under the machine and answered her question. Mrs. Andrews said she saw the man again at the Dedham jail and recognized him in the prisoner's cage in the court room today. It was when she was trying to tell whether the man was Sacco or Vanzetti that Sacco spoke up. Mrs. Andrews then said it was he.

BRISTOL WOMAN SUICIDE.

Mrs. Ira Stewart Recently Returned from the Asylum.

Bristol, June 11.—Mrs. Ira Stewart, 62 years of age, committed suicide by hanging herself at her home on North street yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Her body was found by her husband hanging from the rafters in a room over the woodshed. She had been in poor health for some time and had been in the hospital at Waterbury for treatment, having returned home recently. She leaves her husband and one daughter, Mrs. E. W. Jennings of this place. The funeral will be held privately on Sunday.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Dewey of Biltmore, N. C., arrived in Barre last evening to spend a month with relatives in this city and Montpelier. Mrs. Dewey was formerly Miss Jessie Morgan.

Mrs. N. D. Phelps, Mrs. W. E. Shepard and Mrs. Alexander Smith returned to the city yesterday afternoon from Huntington where they have been attending a convention of the women's club of the state. They were driven to and from Bennington in an automobile by Clarence Babes.

Eva Colombo, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Colombo of 35 Branch street, died last night at 9 o'clock at her home after suffering with scarlet fever for the past 11 days. The child's funeral will be held privately from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, burial to be made in Hope cemetery.

GRADUATION AT BETHEL.

Whitcomb High School Turned Out a Class of 19.

Bethel, June 11.—The Whitcomb high school graduation exercises last evening were of their usual brilliant character and were enjoyed by a large audience of the friends of the school and of the 19 graduates. The music by the school orchestra was much enjoyed.

The program included: Salutatory and essay, "The Greatness of Hawthorne," by Miss Emma Haikara; essay, "Why Go to College?," Winston Dunham; song, "Lady Morn," Miss Mary Hovey; essay, "The Problem of Immigration," Agnaldo Peduzzi; essay, "When Music Falls," Miss Frances Southworth; who also made the presentation of a class gift to the school; essay, "Old Days and Old Ways," Miss Bernice Perkins; essay, "Our Winter Landscape," Miss Adeline Persons; class poem, written and recited by Miss Corinne Newman; oration, with valedictory, "The Future of Democracy," Wesley Dunham; class song, "The Our Gratitude Hour," Miss Hovey and Grace (written by Miss Southworth); presentation of diploma, Mrs. Mabel B. Clifford of the school committee.

Several members of the class were first grade pupils of Mrs. Clifford 12 years ago, therefore, the class was of special interest to her. She pleaded for co-operation between the parents and teachers and emphasized the need of high school drawing and the success of the commercial department. The University of Vermont honor scholarships were awarded to Miss Southworth and Wesley Dunham.

HAD SHOCK AFTER WALK.

James Flynn of Williamstown Died To-day at Age of 58.

James Flynn died this morning at the City hospital, having been brought there two days ago from Williamstown, where he suffered a shock Monday night.

Mr. Flynn, who was about 58 years of age, had made his home in the vicinity of Graniteville and Williamstown for many years and, although owning a farm and another dwelling house in the town of Williamstown, but near Graniteville, he was also an engineer by occupation and worked on the quarry for a time, withdrawing from that business three or four years ago when his health began to fail.

Being unmarried, he kept house for himself since he left off work at the quarry and so far as known has no relatives except a brother somewhere in New York state whom he had not seen for 35 or 40 years.

Last Monday Mr. Flynn walked from his dwelling house to his farm, a distance of three miles or more, and immediately upon his arrival there he was stricken with the shock. The physician, who was called, advised his early removal to the hospital here and from the first there was not a chance for his recovery.

Funeral arrangements are not complete.

MONTPELIER

The first of the exercises connected with the commencement of Montpelier high school took place Friday evening when the junior prom occurred in the hall, attended by a large number of the people of the school and chaperoned by some of the teachers and mothers of the members of the class.

The hall was tastefully decorated in gold and blue, the class colors. The committee in charge of the arrangements was Ella Bliss, Ruby Wiggins, Louise Slayton, Helen Wood, Laura Fargue, Madeline Fenier, Edith Woodruff, Thomas Kane, Edgar Johnson, Robert Ryan, Teddy Lawson, Gordon Maunsell and John Dewey. The officers of the class are: President, Reinhold Niles; vice-president, Margorie Kilby; secretary, Madeline Fenier; treasurer, Teddy Lawson; hostess, orchestra of St. Albans furnish music. The baccalaureate address will take place in the auditorium in the school building Sunday evening. H. A. Swaffield, principal of the school, will give the address. Following the exercises the class will occur Monday at Caldonia park, where the morning will be passed in games, followed by the class exercises and then more games and races. The graduation exercises occur Wednesday evening. H. J. M. Jones, chairman of the board of school commissioners, was to have spoken to the class, but owing to business matters, will be out of the city.

The announcement of the marriage of Arthur E. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Allen of this city, to Miss Sue Osborn of Los Angeles, Cal., June 1, has been received in the city. They will reside at Pasadena, Cal., where the groom is agent for the Union Oil Co. The bride has been secretary to a large firm in Los Angeles.

Twelve head of stock from the Greatwood Farms in Plainfield, owned by Willard S. Martin, passed through the city Friday afternoon, en route to Ormstown, P. Q., where they will appear in the annual exhibition of Short-horns.

Iris Batheider, who has been here attending the secondary school, returned last evening for his home in New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hathaway of Montpelier were local visitors yesterday.

Dr. and Mrs. Julius E. Dewey are visiting here for a short time. Dr. Dewey is in the health service of the federal government.

D. H. Skinner and Vern Parker arrived in the city yesterday from Watford. They will be accompanied by Miss Louise Skinner, teacher for the past year in the North Barre school.

FRENCH HONOR COL. GALBRAITH

At Funeral of American Legion Head Held at Cincinnati

U. S. OFFICIALS ALSO PRESENT

Chateau-Thierry Sends Recognition of the Late Colonel

Cincinnati, June 11.—An international phase was given to-day to the funeral of Colonel Fred W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, who was killed in an automobile accident by the presence of Marcel Knecht, French high commissioner to the United States, who was a close friend of the colonel, and Captain Legere, air attaché of the French embassy at Washington, representing Ambassador Jusserand.

M. Knecht came to Cincinnati accompanied by two French veterans to carry the tri-color in the funeral procession. A palm on the coffin bore a card reading: "To one of the bravest liberators, from the city of Chateau-Thierry." The citizens of that city called to M. Knecht to order the tribute.

Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy; Colonel T. M. Miller, alien property custodian, and J. T. Taylor, vice chairman of the Legion's legislative committee came from Washington to attend the funeral.

Other arrivals were Governor Davis of Ohio, all the members of the Ohio supreme court, Franklin D. O'Hair of Philadelphia, past national commander of the American Legion; John H. Emery of Grand Rapids, vice national commander and Major George W. Reid, commander of the fifth corps area.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Miss Mary Gonyo has returned to the city after visiting for a week in Windsor.

John A. MacNeil of Winn, Me., is visiting at the home of his brother, Harry MacNeil of Ayers street.

Miss Florence Rutter of Keene, N. H., is visiting Mrs. Robert Troup of North Main street. Miss Rutter was a former Barre girl.

A second dividend of 20 per cent was declared to-day in the bankrupt estate of John Arioli of Barre, making a total of 50 per cent declared thus far.

Ira Wright, F. W. Holt, W. F. Walker and A. W. Cormack left this morning by automobile for Claremont, N. H., to attend the Red Men convention.

Miss Josephine Fontana arrived in the city yesterday from Rye, where she has been teaching school, to pass the summer at her home on Central street.

Domenico Koco arrived in the city Thursday evening from Milford, N. H., and is visiting at the home of Mrs. Angelina Cattanoe of 88 Smith street for several days.

In case of heavy rainfall this afternoon the work of installing the relief valve at the Orange brook reservoir of the Barre water system will be postponed until to-morrow.

Yesterday afternoon at Lincoln campus the east hill baseball team defeated Phelps Co. in a seven-inning contest by the score of 14 to 12. Heavy hitting by both teams featured.

Mrs. Mary S. Mackay returned yesterday from Rutland, where she attended the O. E. S. grand chapter. She was elected to the office of district deputy grand matron and Dr. H. W. Holden of Randolph was elected district deputy grand patron of this district.

The body of Thomas A. Forbes, cook of Co. E, 101st ammunition train, who died in a hospital in France on Dec. 4, 1918 from the effects of the influenza, arrived in the city last evening on the 6:35 train, accompanied by a single soldier guard of honor. The funeral is to be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Presbyterian church, with burial in the Hope cemetery.

Fifteen young lady friends of Miss Elizabeth Caldera gathered at the home of E. Berini of Pleasant street last evening and tendered her a shower in honor of her approaching marriage. A mock wedding, in which Mrs. E. Berini was the minister, Lucy Berini the bride, Leone Lamperti the groom, Josephine Colombo the best man, Margaret Lamperti the bridesmaid and Miss Margaret Lamperti the flower girl, furnished much fun. A little playlet, entitled, "A Day at the Cabaret," which the above-named young ladies took part, also caused much merriment. Games were afterwards played and dancing was in order. The latter part of the evening, music being furnished by the L. C. orchestra. During the evening Miss Caldera was presented a handsome electric lamp. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and wafers were served. At a late hour the entire company escorted Miss Caldera to her home, wishing her much happiness. Mrs. E. Berini and Miss Margaret Lamperti had charge of the affair.

MOTORCYCLE STRUCK BARN

Killing Two Occupants and Badly Injuring a Third

GASOLINE TANK THEN EXPLODED

Bodies of Two Killed, Were Burned to a Crisp at Hancock, Mass.

Pittsfield, Mass., June 11.—Joseph Harris, 23 years of age, of Pittsfield, and Peter Noyes, 17 years of age, of Hancock, both single, were almost instantly killed, and Donald Boesse, 14 years of age, of Hancock was badly injured as the result of a motorcycle accident in Hancock early this morning.

The three were riding in a motorcycle with side car attached when the machine crashed into a barn which was being moved across the village street and had reached a point well into the street when work was suspended for the day.

When the machine hit the building the gasoline tank exploded and the flaming fluid splashed over the three occupants and the bodies of Harris and Noyes were burned almost to a crisp, practically all their clothing being consumed by the flames.

The Boesse boy was quite severely burned about the body but it is believed he will recover.

ROBBERS CARRIED OFF SMALL SAFE

Amount of Loot Taken at Randolph Railroad Station May Have Been $1,000 or More.

Randolph, June 11.—The authorities and railroad officials are investigating a bold robbery which took place at the Randolph railroad station early yesterday morning when two robbers escaped with a small safe of the railway express company and the money in the drawer of the station office, the total loot being estimated between $500 and $1,000. Some estimates place the amount stolen as even higher than the latter figure.

The details of the robbery have not been cleared up satisfactorily, but one story has it that the two robbers entered the station after the arrival of the north-bound train and while one of them engaged the attention of the two men in the station about some baggage the other made a dash for the cash drawer and then picking up the express safe and carrying it off.

This safe is a receptacle not much more than a foot high and of equally small width, so that it could be carried off without much trouble.

As yet the officers have found no trace of the robbers. The station is the time the robbery was in charge of the operation, who is a comparatively new-comer, having arrived from Canada a few weeks ago.

COUNTY W. C. T. U.

Convention Will Be Held in Barre on June 14.

The 28th Washington county convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will be held in Barre on June 14, with the following program: 9:45, executive meeting. 10:15, opening service and greetings. Rev. B. J. Lehigh, response and organization. Mrs. E. J. Colby, recall of officers and delegates.

11, report of county secretary, Miss Martha Watson; of county treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Kellogg; of local secretaries and executive committee. Election of officers and superintendents.

1:30, memorial service. Elsie Pease Barney; introduction of speakers. 2, paper by Miss F. M. Baker on "School Hygiene;" music; reading, Mrs. Lillie.

3, address, Mrs. Elsie Deane Barney, state president. Report of committee on resolutions; paper on "How Can I Win New Members?" Mrs. D. Denmore; unfinished business.

7:30 p. m. Praise service; offering; address, Mrs. Janette Mann, Boston; benediction.

STORE CHANGES HANDS.

Peter A. and Thomas E. Hamel Buy Cushman Store.

The Cushman electrical supply store at 14 Elm street, conducted for the past year by Messrs. G. A. and Charles S. Cushman, changed hands during the past week and is now owned by Messrs. Peter A. and Thomas E. Hamel. The Cushman company, which before purchasing the store from Perley M. Carr, specialized in motor repairing, winding motors and power apparatus, plans to continue this business as ever, and still have workshops near the Central Vermont depot. The deal which transpired between this company and the Messrs. Hamel transferred only the ownership and good will of the electrical supply store and wiring business, which henceforth will be in charge of Peter Hamel and the store operated under its original name, The Electrical Store.

Mr. Hamel, an electrician of extensive experience in Barre and Montpelier, plans to accommodate anyone with electrical wiring or electrical supplies, and will be glad to meet all customers of the Cushman trade with which he has been affiliated for the past two years. Friends of Mr. Hamel feel confident of his success in this enterprise.

ANOTHER CALL TO BARRE

To Help Clothe Babies and Young Children of Central Europe.

Once more the national Red Cross, through the New England division, asks Barre for her assistance. This time it is to help clothe the millions of babies and young children in central Europe. The call to America is for 2,000,000 garments, which is only a small part of what must be supplied from other sources before the children are even decently clothed. The quota which has been apportioned to the New England division is 70,000 garments and 21,000 layettes. From this number, Barre is asked to furnish 600 garments and 50 layettes.

Most of the Barre churches are willing to assume the responsibility for a certain number of these. Graniteville and Williamstown will probably also assist, but there still remains work for volunteers, and if anyone feels that they can furnish any of the mentioned articles they will please call Mrs. N. D. Phelps, tel. 57.

The various kinds of garments needed are: For children one to five years old, dresses, petticoats, undershirts, nightgowns; for girls five to 14 years old, dresses, chemises, petticoats, undershirts, nightgowns; for boys five to 14 years old, blouse-suits, undershirts, winter undershirts and nightshirts. The layettes should contain two flannel dresses, two undershirts, two pairs of booties, knitted, crocheted or made from remnants of the flannel dress, two flannel binders six inches wide by 28 inches long, two swaddling blankets, six diapers with 12 safety pins, six of which should be used to pin the outside of the wrapping when prepared for shipment. A bag may be made of any material, even of several kinds of material, into which the folded layette may be slipped. A strong binding is to be secure and then the mother has something in which to keep the baby's clothes.

These garments can be made from using wearing apparel of every description, remnants, odds and ends, bed clothing, portieres, curtains—anything that ingenuity can convert into a garment.

The Barre chapter asks every woman in the community, whether she has ever helped in the Red Cross work or not, to contribute her material and work if possible, for this great call.

A recent letter from division headquarters has called Barre a star chapter because of its faithfulness in fulfilling obligations and the officers wish to meet this call completely and promptly as heretofore. Everyone who can should help as the situation of children overseas is literally appalling, according to authentic information gathered by the Red Cross and other relief organizations.

Mrs. Phelps will answer all questions regarding the work.

FIGHTERS FINED.

After They Had Stirred Up North Main Street with Brawl.

John Belmont of the G. Tomasi block on North Main street and Diamante Casacio of 4 First street came to blows on North Main street last evening near the Fayette Cutler home after renewing an old dispute regarding the 1915 stonecutters' strike. The couple exchanged blows and Casacio struck Belmont a blow on the head with a brick which he had taken from the street. Belmont, who was a member of the stonecutters' union, was taken to the hospital after being hit on the head by the brick. Belmont was taken to the hospital after being hit on the head by the brick. Belmont was taken to the hospital after being hit on the head by the brick.

When the police, Chief Sullivan and Deputy Chief Gonyo, arrived, the two men with their friends had disappeared, but the officers, obtained the description of Belmont, who pretended to know nothing of the affair.

He was taken to the police station to be questioned, but no explanation was necessary from him, as Casacio appeared upon the scene to make complaint against him.

Chief Sullivan placed both under arrest on a breach of peace charge after State's Attorney Thomas issued warrants, and the two were taken into city court last evening at 8 o'clock. Judge E. L. Scott fined both of them $10 with costs of $7.45, which they paid, and left court feeling happy. The police could obtain no substantial evidence of the knife episode, and since nothing could be found on Belmont, they were satisfied to press merely the breach of peace charge.

YANPO-BLANKMAYER.

Barre Automobile Salesman, Weds Brooklyn Girl.

A very quiet wedding occurred on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. B. G. Lipsky, pastor of the Hedding Methodist church, when Oscar Roy Yando of 26 Pearl street, a salesman of the Oldsmobile Company of Vermont, was united in marriage to Miss Anna S. Blankmayer of Brooklyn, N. Y., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Blankmayer. The bride arrived here Wednesday evening and immediately after the wedding the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Malone, N. Y., where they plan to spend about 10 days at Mr. Yando's home.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the presence of Mrs. Lipsky, a witness, and Miss Violet Ducharme, bridesmaid, and Carroll "Redway," the best man. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit and wore a black lace hat and a corsage of white roses, while the bridesmaid also wore a blue suit with a picture hat.

Following the wedding the party motored to Montpelier, where a wedding dinner awaited them at Miller's inn, and from whence the couple left for Malone. Upon their return they will reside at 22 Park street in this city and expect to be at home after 10 days at Mr. Yando's home.

The groom is a member of the American Legion and an ex-service man of good record. He is one of the ablest salesmen employed by the Oldsmobile company, and a young man popular among his fellow associates and Legion brothers.

Donald W. Smith arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon to attend the graduation exercises of Spaulding high school and witness the graduation of his brother, Wendell Smith. Mr. Smith will return to New Haven, Conn., and Yale university to-night.

IMPRESSIVE GRADUATION

Marked the Final Appearance of Spaulding Class of 1921

77 DIPLOMAS

DISTRIBUTED

Speaker Was Maro S. Brooks, Grand-Nephew of Jacob Spaulding

Spaulding 1921 Graduates.

Academic course, Doris Genevieve Burke, Bernice Mary Davis, Doris Merle Davis, Beatrice Claudia Mower, Mary Ella Phelps, Francis Lee Quinlan, Foster Cowles Slayton, John Wendell Smith, Dino G. Valz, Clarence Scott Ward, Madeline Ella Whitcomb.

English course, Nelson Charles Abbot, Arthur Laurence Aldrich, Hilte Annie Allen, Alice Mae Bartlett, Winston Booth Brown, Alice Calaguni, Eugene Louis Casani, Willis Gladstone Clark, Lena Rose Croce, George Edmund Douglas, Merle Gertrude Douglas, John Wallace Gauld, Bertrand Charles Lavigne, Lyndal Camp LeBlanc, Mary Bottamini, Madeline Grace Camp, Martha Jean Chalmers, Edith Irene Dodds, America John Galli, Annie Josephine Galli, Gladys Ceila Grogan, Avis Mae Lawrence, Irene J. Lawrence, Gretchen Marney Lagouri, Donald Allen McKenae, Kathleen Louise Marr, Vivian Alma Matott, Mary McLaren Milne, Mary Hazel Berdette O'Keefe, Lillian Mae Papp, Kathleen Mary Hamel, Bertha Elizabeth Higgin, Ellen Edith Inglis, Oscar Harry Johanson, Mildred Lillian Lander, Florence Juliet Perry, Louise Elaine Righini, Mary Christina Scott, Florence Victoria Sellberg, Elvira Bessie Sowden, William Delbert Watt.

Teacher-training course, Anona Aune Barrett, Sara Janice Bartlett, "Ruby" Hazel Burdette, Lorraine Hildie Cady, Clara Ellen Carpenter, Olga Cherry Carusi, "Euphemia" Dolly Gordon, Cathleen Ruth Hudson, Mary Josephine Locarno, Esther Emily McIntyre, Eleanor Ruth Morris, Laura Mary Murphy, Ruth Christine Murray, Celinda Myrtle Witham.

* Completes the course as a graduate student.

The 28th annual commencement of Spaulding high school was brought to a close last night at the opera house when 77 members of the graduating class received diplomas as a reward for four years of scholastic work. The feature of the evening was the address to the graduates by Maro S. Brooks, grand-nephew of Jacob Spaulding, first principal of the old Barre academy and for whom the high school is named. Mr. Brooks was formerly deputy commissioner of education in New Hampshire but recently accepted a position as superintendent of schools in Medford, Mass. As is usual, friends and relatives of the graduates packed the opera house to the doors, many of them being forced to stand during the whole exercises.

When the graduating class had been escorted to their seats by Marshall Clyde Sutor to the strains of the old familiar Spaulding march, the program was opened by a selection by the senior chorus, "Native Land," by Jordan. Whereupon Rev. B. G. Lipsky of the Methodist church led in prayer.

Miss Madeline Ella Whitcomb, winner of second honor, read an essay on "A Modern St. George." The young lady had given much consideration and fore-thought to the origin and development of the legend of St. George, patron saint of England, who went forth to Egypt, subdued the dragon, and as a reward received the king's daughter in marriage. Miss Whitcomb drew a careful comparison between the legend of St. George and what she believed to be the modern conqueror. For the dragon which had been eating the heart out of the lives of the people of Egypt, she took the poverty, illiteracy and the indifference to law of the present day. The modern St. George was the social worker. Then she went ahead to outline and illustrate some of the duties, qualifications and cases with which the social worker becomes associated.

Miss Elvira Bessie Sowden, first honor student, spoke on "Joy in Work." Equally well had this speaker prepared her topic, and equally well did she bring out each point. For subject matter she drew on many illustrations and quotations from various authors, and incidents and through this method, along with some good sound argument, was based the real effectiveness of her essay. Her main object was to bring out the idea that working for the mere joy of working often produced the real joy and happiness. Many interesting anecdotes reproduced by her for the sake of supporting evidence were very interesting.

After the senior chorus had given another song, "All Hail Sweet Spring," Principal Lyman Hunt introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Brooks. Gladly had Mr. Spaulding, grand-nephew spoken a word before he had won full standing with his audience.

A real heart to heart talk on the history of some of his ancestry and a few of the many interesting incidents of his life conveyed any of the few discontents and his hopes of the future and put everyone in the very best frame of mind to listen to the really enlightening subject upon which he talked.

Not America for Americans but "Americans for America" was Mr. Brooks' topic. "Before I want to say to you," he said, "let me say to you of the graduating class that I earnestly hope that never have any of your year."

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

After the speaker had finished his address, the senior chorus sang "The Spaulding Song," which was a new composition by the senior chorus.

teachers tried to impress you with the fact that America is a finished product; it is only in the making. It remains not only for those of us who were born here and who have had a long line of ancestry, to help build up the government, and who have fought its battles and shed their blood for its life, to make the country; but it is also for those who come here to make their homes to do their part. It is also for those people who come to our shores seeking a home, who live under different customs, and who speak a different language to equally aid in the great task of building America.

"It is for this purpose that Americanization committees try to teach the immigrant and to help him become a full, loyal and patriotic American. It cannot be done by force. It must be done by cooperation. The children of their foreign-born are tutoring with the rest of the American children in our schools according to the rules and regulations of a carefully prescribed curriculum. The harder task is to reach the adults, those who are beyond the school age and who have lived most of their lives in a country whose habits, customs and tongues are quite unlike ours. These people are equally necessary for the life and growth of America, and it is for this reason we must devise some plan through which to reach them."

We cannot afford to let them dig themselves into some large city where they will become lost in some foreign colony where they find no use for the learning of our language and of our ways. In order to impress them with the fact that America needs them, we must arrange to meet them half way, and endeavor to educate them to our way of speaking and living because it is more feasible than for us to accustom ourselves to their many various customs and speech.

To this end the Americanization societies are endeavoring through every means possible to teach the class the English language and the new way toward a common ground of understanding. Our former way of teaching the language has become so incompetent that it is now obsolete. Under the new method the language is to be taught in logical order. First will come the way to speak it, then to read it and last of all the way to write it.

In closing Mr. Brooks turned for a few words especially to the graduating class. He pointed out that all life is a contribution box not a grab bag, and he urged the members to go out into the world with this view in mind. As much as you put into a thing that will you get out.

Diplomas were then presented by Principal Lyman C. Hunt, who added a few words of wise counsel in his last talk to the class as students of Spaulding. Then began the impressive march of the entire class around the orchestra, hand on each other's shoulder in spirit of everlasting friendship.

After the exercises a last reception for the class was given at the Spaulding assembly hall.

HOWLAND SCHEDULE SHOWS $209,830 DEBTS

Assets Are Listed at $207,538.56, of Which $1,500 Is Claimed as Exempt—Petition in Bankruptcy Is Involuntary.

Burlington, June 11.—The schedule of assets and liabilities in the involuntary bankruptcy case of Frank C. Howland, the former president of the Barre Savings Bank & Trust Co., was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the United States court. The liabilities are placed at $209,830 and the assets at $207,538.56. Of this $1,500 is claimed exempt.

The liabilities are largely secured claims such as mortgages, which total $191,410. They are placed mostly on the numerous real estate holdings of the bankrupt in Barre with one on a farm in East Montpelier. Howland has unsecured claims due of $17,420 and owes a note for $1,000.

The list of assets includes real estate, valued at $171,410, stocks and bonds valued at $18,650. The stocks and bonds include $85,650 shares in the Barre Savings Bank & Trust Co., value $28,650; 30 shares Quarry Savings Bank, $3,000; 40 shares Butte & Superior Copper Co., 11 shares Anaconda, 10 shares United States Smelting & Refining Co., 20 shares Dominion Zinc, 5 shares American Zinc, preferred and numerous small holdings. The value of these stocks is stated as being unknown.

Howland carried $50,000 life insurance with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. Money had been borrowed on practically all of this.

SPAUDING'S BASEBALL CAPTAIN

"Bobby" Nicora Was Re-elected by Team Yesterday

At a meeting of the Spaulding high school baseball team held yesterday afternoon, "Bobby" Nicora, captain of the past season's team, was re-elected captain for the 1922 team. Nicora is this year a junior at Spaulding, and has played on the baseball team for the past two years. A year ago he played a right field position and